STONE IS ALIVE WITH US

We believe in long-lasting relations..

Welcome to the world of natural stones. M/s, Marudhar brings to you a stunning range of exquisite natural granite slabs from India.

Granite has become the most widely utilized stone material in the building industry today. Granite has been used in important architecture throughout the world. Some of our oldest cobblestone streets are of granite and are still very functional today. It has also been valued as flooring in almost any application, kitchen or bath counter tops, walls, and driveways are all popular uses for this extremely hard material.

Our company, with its efficient and dynamic management is engaged in offering high quality products to our customers.

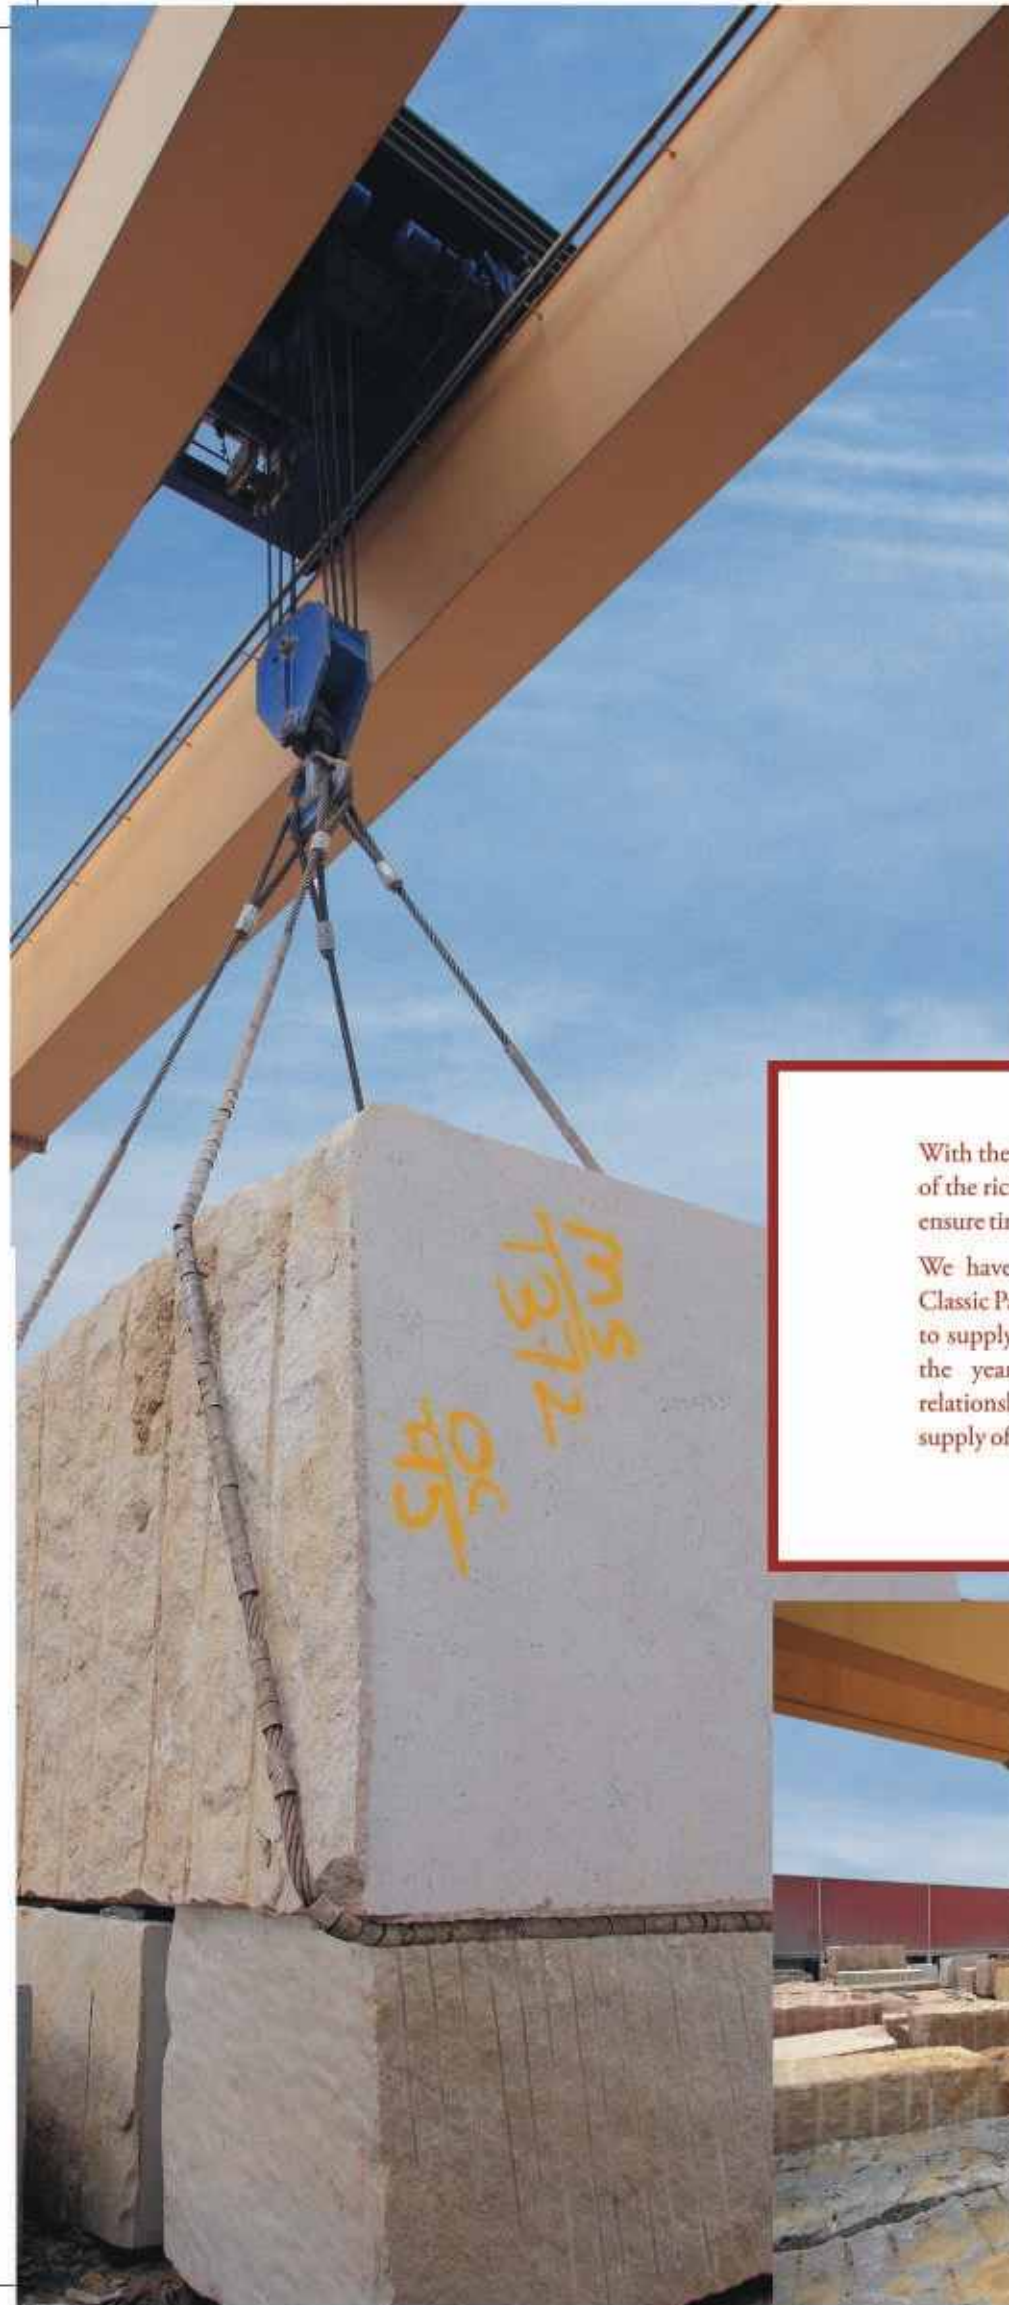

View of factory

Marudhar is a reputed enterprise involved in the manufacture and export of Granite slabs. Our products are available in lively colours and unique texture and are processed for both interior as well as exterior applications.

With the voluminous experience, we have acknowledged the industry needs and served our customers that have earned us appreciation through our commitment towards excellence. We possess a comprehensive quality control system and ensure prompt delivery of high quality products.

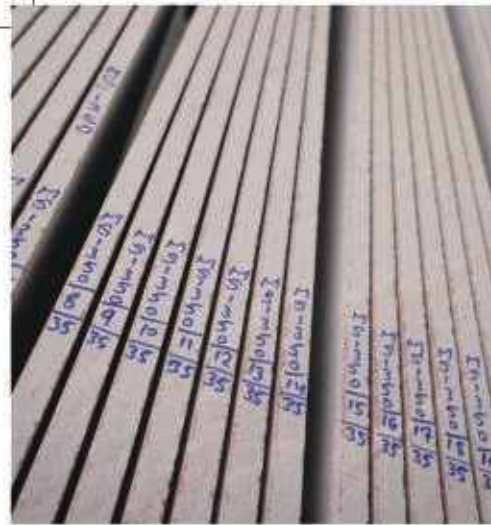

With the strategic location of Marudhar in the heart of the rich granite belt of South India, we are able to ensure timely delivery of all Indian granite colours.

We have our own quarries of Red Multicolour, Classic Paradiso and Golden Yellow which enables us to supply the finished products consistently. Over the years, we have developed long standing relationship with quarry owners for uninterrupted supply of premium granite blocks.
